June 23, 1963

Dear Mr. Low:

At 03:05 EST June 22/23, 1963 while sweeping Pegasus, I saw a hazy object at the position indicated on the enclosed chart. Immediately, of course, I consulted my Skalnate-Pleso and found that there was nothing hazy in the area. The closest non-stellar objects being two galaxies, but these are beyond my limit anyway. They are indicated on the chart, one being south of 68 Pegasi, the other being in the northeast corner of the map. I watched the object for sometime to make sure it was real, and not merely me going mad. Its position at that time was nearly 23h34m 22°10'N, near a small group of stars, one of which is given on the Skalnate Pleso as an 8th mag affair; the group being east of 71 Pegasi.

By the time I got a wire off to Harvard, the morning was upon us, so I did not make a drawing. I hope to do so tonight.

Probably it is nothing and I'll end up feeling like an ass. But how much more foolish I would have felt had it been something and I did not report it.

Enclosed also is a card I wrote you, but I may as well send it with this letter. This card request that I be assigned certain areas to observe. I hope you find it readable. I cant look for novae because there are just too many stars in the great square. If I had a smaller, mapped area, then I could.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Jones,

(I am an unattached member.)

I would like about a half dozen definite areas for study.
Prefer above  $-25^{\circ}$  Dec, below  $+60^{\circ}$ Dec, not in milky way, and uniformly scattered around sky for year's work. I would choose them, but if I did I would probably duplicate someone else's efforts.
Besides, I don't know how big they should be. What you?
Assign me and. Thank
