Dear Mr. Low:

Your card, with the list of areas of the sky on it, arrived in the last mail. I can't do much with this list until

- (a) I get some star maps of these areas,
- (b) clear weather arrives. Since my telescope was finished about a month ago, we have had so little clear sky at night that the only way we have of finding out what phase moon is at, is to look at a calendar.

Please advise if a star atlas will be required, and, if so, which one.

Temperature here now is about 10 above, cloudy. Will go below zero when clear sky appears.

Cordially,

Kenneth McCulloch
