

WARNER OBSERVATORY,
ROCHESTER, N.Y.,
U. S. A.

May 14th 93

Dear Sir

The Warner Observatory has for years been opened to visitors as conditioned on the inclosed card

Owing to the failure of Mr Warner the observatory is no more. The instruments are dismantled to be located in the west probably in Colorado

A magnificent 6ⁱⁿ refractor by the Clarks is on sale here owing to the recent death of its owner. I as yet do not know the price. It is now never owing to its owners ill health having been used much. I never looked through so good a one. I start in a few days to Col. & on my return will be informed of the price. When you get your scheme

WARNER OBSERVATORY,
ROCHESTER, N.Y.,
U. S. A.

inaugurated I will if desired give you a list of the principal objects that will interest visitors

I remember of giving in 1846 in the "Old City Hall" a series of lectures on Electro Magnetism the Telegraph &c

I stopped at a hotel kept by George Patt I think on Young St not certain though. The world of science has moved since then

Yours Truly

Lewis Swift