DECEMBER

On his 81st birthday over 100 British English writers joined in sending him this tribute:

'In your novels and poems you have given us a tragic view of life which is informed by your knowledge of character and relieved by the charity of your humor, and sweetened by your sympathy with human suffering and ordinariness. We have learned from you that the proud heart can subdue the hardest fate, even in submitting to it In all that you have written you have shown the spirit of man, nourished by tradition and restrained by pride, persisting through defeat.
